More specifically who we are:

Ekala established in 2004 - Focusing where our experience, knowledge & passion lies – South Africa.

A family team who has a true love for South Africa, its cultural diversity, breath taking beauty and a deep-seated commitment to supply the finest tour/safari experiences from a local perspective.

Ekala has an appreciation of South Africa's historical heritage, wildlife, natural beauty and diversity, eco-tourism and cultural diversity. Ekala maintains a strong focus on sustainable tourism.

Local professional tour guides who have in-depth local knowledge of South Africa's history, culture, geography & religion that will enable visitors to fully absorb the overall wealth of South Africa.

Supply a balanced awareness of South African conditions, our complex history, our cultural diversity.

Ekala's mission is to:

- Provide a high-quality private safari and tour service (culturally and historically).
- Provide clients with a full understanding of South Africa – past, present and potential future.
- Maintain a high level of knowledge on current events, both in South Africa and the World.
- Provide authentic South Africa experience - Promote South Africa as a leading tourism destination.
 - Provide an understanding of South Africa's diverse cultures.

The "Eco" in Ekala Eco Tours

Visiting protected areas intended as low impact and then environmentally sustainable.

Conservation - We are aware of South Africa's environmental issues and are thus passionate about conservation and protection of South Africa's unique environment and then cultural diversity.

Ekala has made a special commitment to consider environmental and socio-cultural issues in all aspects of our tours. Each private tour is thus specifically designed to enrich the guest.

Eco tourism intended to offer tourists insight into the impact humans have on the environment and consequently foster a greater appreciation of our natural habitats.

Captive wildlife industry - Commercial Game Parks - Wildlife interactions

Due to conservation issues that Ekala finds offensive, we do not support these breeding facilities.

Our Services - Tailor-made to your specifications:

Offering a complete package. Alternatively, tours/safaris to fill in times within your schedule.

Conclusion:

We are ethically minded and, as such endeavour to offer competitive prices, in the end however, we will always favour responsible and ethical tourism/consumerism.

Allow us to share with you, our love and knowledge of this beautiful country. Consequently leaving you with a greater understanding of the need to protect our natural and historically significant areas.

In every respect, to supply you an experience you will never forget – for the right reasons.
